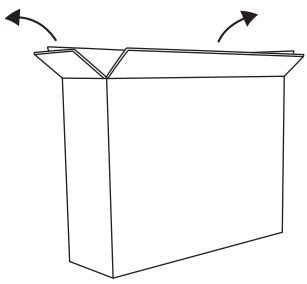
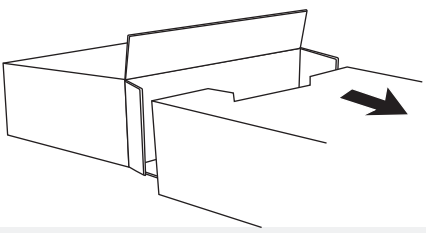
1



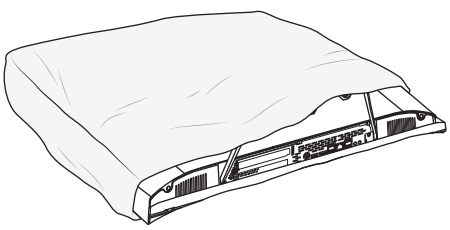
Open box tabs and lay down flat

2



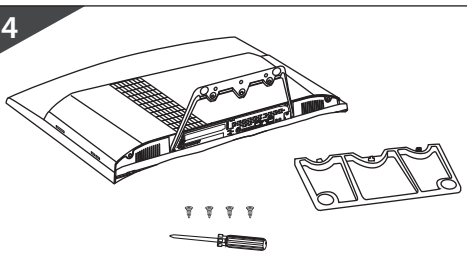
Gently slide the contents out from the box and remove any accessories such as the base and cables

3



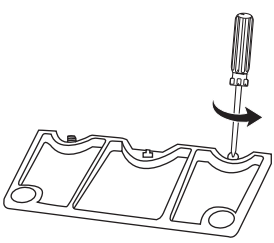
Remove packaging from the AIO and carefully remove the foam cover from the device

4



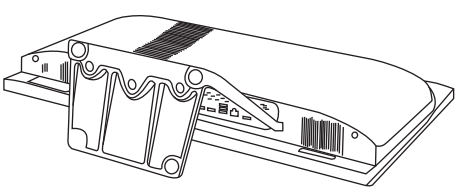
Once all other components have been removed from their packaging you will have the following pieces to assemble

5



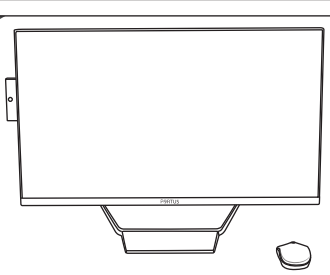
Start off by removing the 3 screws on the base plate with the screwdriver provided

6



Line the base plate to the stand holes and tighten all 3 screws up, one by one

7



Lastly, plug the power cable into the middle round port and the USB dongle found inside the mouse battery compartment
